

Behaviour Thursdays

A 3-part Positive Behaviour Support Workshop Series

Challenging behaviour can make it difficult for a person to achieve their best possible quality of life, and there are often negative effects on the lives of those around the person as well.

This three-part workshop series aims to help families learn how to understand and intervene to change challenging behaviours, and reduce the barriers they can cause.

Please note, each workshop builds on the content of the previous ones, so participants should ensure they can attend all three days before booking. Participants will not be admitted to later workshops before attending earlier ones.
